Greetings and welcome to the Green Room Gazette.

I'm your host, BLT's John Myers.

November – the beginning of the holiday season. As I write this, the temperature has dropped 25 degrees and it rained for five days straight last weekend. Of course, this is Idaho, so next week it will probably be 75 and sunny.

Dracula just closed, and if you missed it, you missed one of the most visually beautiful shows BLT has done in years. Director Whitney Ulmen and her cast and crew put on a spooky good time for everyone.

A Miracle on 34th Street has moved into the theater and Cheryl Blauer and her cast of thousands are getting ready to bring this family-friendly classic to the stage. If you are looking for something to do this holiday season, be sure to come check out this latest addition to BLT's tradition for great holiday theater.

The Last Round-Up of the Guacamole Queens has auditions on November 5th and 6th in the Green Room and auditions for A Streetcar Named Desire will be on December 17th and 18th. So, there is still plenty of theater before the end of the year.

Just a reminder that if you haven't renewed your BLT membership, you only have until the end of the year to renew. Also, if you are looking for a Christmas present idea, might I suggest season tickets or flex passes, both of which are available at the box office.

This will be the last Green Room Gazette until next year, so from all of the board and staff members at Boise Little Theater, we hope you have a safe and happy holiday season, with plenty of friends and family.

And a reminder: when you need a distraction from said friends and family, come see A Miracle on 34th Street.

'til next time

Board Member Duties

by Jay Parker

Boise Little Theater's voting members annually elect a board of directors consisting of five members. The role of a board member consists of many duties.

First, each year we are assigned to be a board liaison for the upcoming shows. We help the directors with any minor or major concerns that they may have, and offer moral support when needed.

Also, as a group, we decide what improvements need to be done to the building, and we figure out ways to keep improving our great building, both inside and out.

Like any organization, we have to deal with all the good and bad – but it's mostly good, thankfully.

With each passing year, we see our organization grow and improve. We are lucky to have a great board that keeps this theater going and changing every year, always for the best.

BLT Student Club Update

Members of the BLT Student Club have had a busy month! A specialty gore makeup workshop was led by Shirley Blauer, as well as an improv workshop by Nichole Stull. Student members worked the house for the Dracula dress rehearsal, and lots of opportunities existed for donning a costume and playing a character!

Boise Little Theater Voting Members for the 2016 - 2017 Season (as of 10/25/16)

According to by-laws, you must pay the $5 membership dues by the January membership meeting (January 16, 2017) in order to be eligible to vote in the March election of board members. If your name is NOT on the list below, please remit payment by the January board meeting.
