Greetings, Hello and a Super Big Welcome to the Green Room Gazette and some notes from the Prez...

As I write this our summer youth show “Never Ending Story,” directed by Kim Sherman-Labrum, is preparing to open. The enthusiasm and excitement of this great young cast is contagious. I can’t wait for opening night.

I’m still recovering from over-eating at the BLT Annual Picnic. It was amazing as always: burgers, brats, awards and fun, now that’s a great recipe. It was great seeing so many of our BLT family attend. You are the lifeblood of this theater; your attendance, involvement and support is as vital a piece of our future as it has been of our history. John Myers and Jim Koepl, the resident chefs, were as hot as the grill and could barely keep up with the burger demands (Great Turnout!!)

We are now transitioning into a new season, a new president and a new chapter in the long and amazing legacy of Boise Little Theater. As I take this well handed-off baton from John Myers, I am humbled by his 10 years as president and equally humbled by the presidents before him, who have all added to the amazing history of BLT.

As I look forward towards the 2019-2020 season, I am aware that we as a community theater will face new challenges in our growing and changing community. We will face new challenges, and have to make new and different decisions as we continue to grow our amazing little theater. We will be challenged to produce theater that reaches out and connects with our new and growing community. I think we can more than meet this challenge.

My new moto is “Come See the New Face of Boise Little Theater”
Please actively join us on this journey. FW

MEET BLT’S NEW BOX OFFICE FACE, AMY REICHEL

“I don’t know where to begin, it all started because my son needed a ride to Pollyanna rehearsals. So I sat quietly in the greenroom quilting away the time. Then, it all sort of snowballed from there because I couldn’t say no when asked to do set building, painting, lights, sound, costumes, show promotion, set tear down, and now the box office! All while working at Starbucks playing the coffee hero. I’ve enjoyed meeting and working with everyone thus far, and I’m looking forward to many more years to come!”

THANK YOU TO OUTGOING BOX OFFICE FACE

A huge "Thank You" to Sarah Church Carroll for her time as the voice of BLT in our Box Office. A woman of many talents, Sarah has done the lobby posters, organized house volunteers, painted scenery and much, much more, all while being wife, mother, and taxi driver for her family (which is in the process of growing). We will miss you, Sarah, Thanks from all of us at BLT, and we' hope to see you at the theater!

BLT'S STUDENT CLUB NEWS

Our season is getting ready to kick off! On April 14th, the BLT Student Club was requested at the Train Depot for face painting. What a great crew we had- so much talent! The Student Club meeting had two guest speakers who talked about the upcoming Student Club activity day! Debbie Hertzog taught the group puppetry and the 4 skills needed to perform it correctly. Patti O'Hara led a book activity that helps to develop your character for plays/musicals, as well as to create for yourself. It was an amazing day of activity on April 27th!

In July, the Student Club was at the Train Depot once again, with a face painting table, and cast members from the Summer Youth production, "Never Ending Story" were there as well, in costume AND in character, to promote their show.

The Student Club meets on the Third Monday of each month, just prior to the Membership Meeting. New members are welcome, so come join in the fun!
