Director Bios

David Rodarte: This is David's first time directing at Boise Little Theater. He has acted in several productions at BLT. He has had a great time directing the kids in this show and would like to thank all of them for their hard work.

Sarah Wright (she/her): Sarah considers Boise Little Theater to be her heart home. When not working on a productions, she works as a community-based mental health provider and studies epidemiology in pursuit of her MPH degree. Public Health Saves Lives!

Christina Ivey (she/they): Christina teaches Boise State students how to talk good. They are incredibly talented at makeup application, trivia challenges, and making people feel welcome & valued. They are so happy to be part of the BLT family.

Kim Sherman-Labrum (she/her): Kim is happy to be back in a theater again, it's so nice to see you all again. She has been working in Boise theater since 2000 in both volunteer and professional capacities. She has been a director, writer, stage manager, prop manager, set designer/builder and painter, sound & light designer/operator, as well as a former theater president. Pretty much anything but an actor. Some of her favorite past shows were "To Kill a Mockingbird", "Moon over the Brewery" and 2019's "Neverending Story" here at Boise Little Theater. Thank you for supporting theater, lending us your talented children and coming out to see the show. We hope you enjoy watching it as much as we did creating it.

Nikki Wesselman: I've been in show biz my whole life, starting dance at an early age developed my love of the stage. Some of my recent involvements were performing in Boise Music Weeks "Music Man", Boise Little Theater's "Pippin" and "Annie" and choreographing for "The Neverending Story" and the upcoming Boise Music Weeks "Into The Woods". This is my first time directing a show and I couldn't have picked a better cast or crew for this journey, this has been a blast! A huge thank you to my co-directors, (who also happen to be my sister and brother-in-law) I think we make a great team!

Heather Lee: I'm always up for trying something new, so why not give directing a musical a shot?! What an adventure it has been directing beside my two favorite people, my handsome hubs, Clay; and my talented sis, Nikki. Thank you to the other directors for your expertise, and patience! Break a chicken kids!!

Clay Lee: Clay is excited (and slightly scared) to be directing alongside both his lovely wife, Heather, and sister-in-law, Nikki! Clay is honored to be involved with another summer show and hopes everyone enjoys the hard work of each of our performers and crew.

On-stager Bios

Elise Cawthon: Elise is home-schooled and loves 80s movies. They hope to become an author someday and bringing a character to life is their favorite part of acting.

Sacha Falcone: Sacha enjoys reading trashy YA and music of no particular genre and is happy to perform again at BLT.

Eloisa Harper: Eloisa is a young student at Hillside Junior High. She's played many roles in many shows and enjoys theater so much! She wants to thank Cheryl, Sarah, Christina, Clay, Nikki, and Heather :)

Aleigh Holmes: Aleigh Holmes is 14 years old and has been acting with Boise Little Theater for 4 years. She played Pollyanna in "Pollyanna", Hellen in "A Christmas Story", and an orphan in "Annie". Aleigh plans to continue acting with Boise Little Theater.

Jaxon Holmes: Jaxon is 15 and going into her junior year at Rocky Mountain. Her first show at BLT was "Miracle On 34th Street", and she fell in love with the theater. Since then, she's been a part of many productions with BLT, and has loved every minute of it.

Gavin Lee: I'm thirteen years old, I'm really excited to be in my fourth show here at Boise Little Theater. I've been performing since a young age with tap dance, choir, and theatre arts. I want to thank all the directors and my parents who helped me be my best.

Isabel Martin: Isabel is a sophomore at One Stone who enjoys theater and music, which she combined in cowriting the music for "Unhappily Ever After". In addition to these passions, she loves singing at her church, mountain biking, and spending time with friends and family in the great outdoors.

Jackson Rodarte: This is Jackson Rodarte's first play. He grew up watching his dad perform at BLT and when the opportunity presented itself to do the summer show, he jumped at the chance to do it. He hopes to do it again as he has made many friends along the way.

Katie Rodarte: Katie Rodarte is making her BLT debut with "Superhero Support Group". She hopes this will be the first of many roles she will play at Boise Little Theater!

Jasper Ryan: This is Jasper's fourth year doing theatre with BLT! He was a nurse in "Stalwart" and helped with tech in "Annie". He also played Atreyu in "The Neverending Story"!
