SPECIAL THANKS

I would like to take a second to thank all the organizations and people that came together on this production.

Opera Idaho, Mountain View High School, Stage Coach Theatre, and Cheryl and Shirley Blauer were instrumental in providing costumes, props, and wigs for the show. Big thank you to Wayne Forrey, who came in to instruct the actors in archery. I would also like to personally thank Gary Miller for the work he did on props for The Play that Goes Wrong and for coming in to aid Greg in finding props for Sherwood.

-Curtis W. Ransom

CAST BIOS

Curtis Ransom:

Curtis is proud to be directing, and now acting, in this wonderfully funny and heartwarming show with such an incredible cast and crew. He would like to thank Dave, Jim, Teresa and Courtney for all the hard work they have put in to making this show happen. He would like to also thank his wonderful wife again for allowing him to be gone so many nights in order to make this show happen. May the spirit of fighting for the underdog live in all of us.

Justin Marshall Elias:

Hi! I'm Justin! I've had a case of 'the goofs' for as long as I can remember and people keep insisting that it's a talent rather than a sickness so here I am. I think live theater is very important and I appreciate you being here to support the magic synergy it evokes. Sit back... and fricken relax for once in your life.

Camilla Boylan:

Theatre is for everyone! Whether you are onstage, backstage, creating the stage, or watching the stage, there is a place for you and everyone is welcome. It is a blessing to be creating magic for audiences, and I am privileged to be a teacher of the craft. Thank you to my family, friends, and students for your support. #dreamsideways

Dave Falcone:

Here I am back on the BLT stage, honored to be cast as Friar Tuck. Some of my favorite past roles have been, the Narrator in A Christmas Story (BLT) and Tito/Beppo in Comedy of Tenors (SCT). I would like to thank my wife Jodi for all her love and support, my children Darya and Sacha, and my parents John and Lillian who encouraged me at an early age to perform. And, finally, this outstanding cast and crew, especially Courtney and Curtis who's love, kindness and support made this show great. May the spirit of Robin Hood live in all of us. Amen

Cat Miller:

Cat's back!! After seven years in Portland, OR, Cat made the move back to their hometown of Boise during the Great Plague of 2020. They currently have degrees in both Theater and Film, and hope to continue their academic career in the near future. They are also classically trained as an actor, and have a special place in their heart for Shakespeare. Cat auditioned for this show after working as the sound board operator on BLT's The Play That Goes Wrong, which reignited their love for grass-roots community theater. They want to thank everyone at Boise Little Theater for welcoming them with open arms, and they hope you enjoy the Show!

Chance Fuerstinger:

Chance is thrilled to return to the stage at BLT, quick on the heels of "The Play That Goes Wrong" in which he played Dennis Tyde. This is his fourth show directed by Curtis Ransom. You may have also seen him as Omar Lord/Messala/Jesus in "Ben Hur: A Tale of the Christ" and Voice 4 in "The Curious Incident of the Dog in the Night-Time" both at Stagecoach Theatre, Sebastian in "Twelfth Night" (dir. Diana Holdridge, BLT), and Rupert in "White People Christmas" (dir. April Matson, Platform Boise).

Jodi Falcone:

I'm very excited to be back on the BLT stage! Especially when I get to play with some of my very favorite people. A big thank you to my handsome hubby Dave, who will always be my favorite Tuck; and to our wonderful directors, Curtis and Courtney Ransom, who invited me on this fun and fantastical forest adventure. Welcome to Sherwood, friends! May your time with us be made Merry and Much

Alexander Sproule-Fendel:

Alex is incredibly grateful and excited to make his Boise Little Theater (BLT) debut with the cast and crew of Sherwood: The Adventures of Robin Hood! Alex is a storyteller, actor, writer and an avid fan of Dungeons and Dragons! A graduate of the College of Idaho's Theater Program, he has always found the creative spaces of community theater to be like a second home and extended family! With each production, his home and family grow, and he couldn't be more thankful to the cast and crew of Sherwood for their dedication and professionalism! Being directed under the legend that is Curtis Ransom for his first acting role since college has posed both great challenges and has been an absolute delight within Sherwood! Alex would like to thank his fellow cast members for embracing him so quickly and showing him the way that is Boise Little Theater. Alex has already been enlisted into another BLT Production this year and is looking forward to taking on a very different role in Ride the Cyclone as the Assistant Director to Victoria Horn, a director he has worked with before and is looking forward to working with again! Alex sincerely hopes you enjoy the show and seriously appreciates you taking the time to read his full bio! Many thanks dear patron, Alex wishes you the best night and a great show! CHEERS!

Jon Patrick Lyons:

Hi everyone! I'm Jon Patrick Lyons. I'm thrilled to be back on stage at the Little Theater in this production of Sherwood! You might have seen me previously as Max Bennet in The Play That Goes Wrong or as Christopher Boone in The Curious Incident of the Dog in the Night Time over at Stagecoach Theater! I'm a pretty big goofball, both on and off stage. I like to read a lot, and I also have a strange obsession with ventriloquism. This is my first time ever playing a villain, so I hope you enjoy!
